UK Innovation for Global Security

Information Exploitation Event (IEE) at Security and Policing 2012 FIVE at Farnborough

Supported by the Home Office, Cabinet Office and MoD, ADS plan to deliver the second Information Exploitation Event (IEE), which is to be held alongside the Home Office's prestigious annual Security and Policing exhibition (formerly HOSDB), in February 2012.

The Information Exploitation 1 day conference aims to deliver a networking and educational forum for all stakeholders and relevant HMG departments who are engaged in the business of information exploitation operations and support, i.e. the command, control, exploitation, dissemination and coordination of digital data to support civ/mil operations. The outcome of such an IE Event (IEE) will inform and educate industry and HMG for the future delivery of IE capability.

Security and Policing 2012 will take place on 31 January to 2 February, in Farnborough. With over 30 years of history and global influence, this UK Government event has grown to be a cornerstone of the security calendar. It remains the UK's only secure event for national and international police, law enforcement and security professionals tasked with security, civil protection and national resilience.

As well as conference attendance, there is an opportunity to have a presence at the exhibition within the Information Exploitation Exhibitor Zone. Interest permitting, ADS would be looking to offer exhibitors a 2 sqm area (space for a single graphic panel and lockable cabinet) for approximately £850 + VAT. Participants within the IE Zone will receive the full benefits of an exhibiting company at Security and Policing, including access to a wide range of visitors from the UK public security sector and international delegations for the full 3 days.

Please note that Industry conference delegates cannot access the Security and Policing exhibition unless they are a registered exhibitor.
